Four online seminars on financial giving and developing a budget for mission

Financial giving and church budgets have been challenged in recent weeks. How can we move beyond just coping to a healthier financial future for churches? Four online Zoom seminars will be based on the Spirited Generosity resource from Mediacom. We'll explore what inspires generosity, reframing budgets around mission, encouraging more avenues for giving, and positive ways to communicate about both money and mission. The sessions will be led by Dr Craig Mitchell and Rev Duncan Macleod. Craig has experience with the approach and will share practical examples. Duncan will add wisdom from his experience in working with a wide range of churches.

Two opportunities. Choose June or July series.

Cost $20 includes workbook. 15 people per seminar.
