

Generous God, bringer of gifts

Fill me with gratitude this day

Gratitude of heart that I might see the gifts of another

Gratitude of mouth that I might sing their praises

Gratitude of spirit that I might recognise the blessings you have brought me

Gratitude of humour as I perceive the playfulness of your giving

Gratitude of eyes that I might deeply draw on the wonders of your created world and know my part in its family

Gratitude of open hands for all that you will place in them this day

Gratitude of memory for my story which you have covered with tenderness and mercy

Gratitude of feet for every step I take this day is as gift.

May the God of surprises who delights in giving, meet me in unlooked for moments. Amen.

Online Seminars

1. Motivation for Giving

2. Patterns for Giving

3. Giving for Mission

4. Planning for Giving

Spiritual generosity

A decorative graphic consisting of a white, flowing outline that forms a large, stylized shape. Inside and around this outline are several small, solid-colored circles in shades of orange, green, purple, and blue. The graphic is positioned below the text 'Spiritual generosity' and extends across the width of the text.

We give in response to the goodness of a our generous God

Scarcity

Abundance

Just enough

Spirited Generosity

- Building a culture of generosity
- Affirming our faith in the goodness of a God who provides
- Cultivating an expectation of abundance, not scarcity
- Focusing on mission, not only maintenance